

DIMITRY HALVORSEN, Staff Attorney

Dimitry Halvorsen is a staff attorney with the firm's Litigation Department.

Mr. Halvorsen has extensive experience in the areas of complex commercial litigation, patent litigation, and internal and governmental investigations. He has represented clients in various antitrust and intellectual property matters as well as multiple domestic and foreign investigations.

Mr. Halvorsen maintains an active pro bono practice representing low-income individuals in immigration matters. He is fluent in Russian, Ukrainian, and Italian.

Mr. Halvorsen graduated with distinction from the University of Regina, where he received his Bachelor of Administration in Accounting. He earned his JD from Osgoode Hall Law School, York University, and he is admitted to practice law in New York and Illinois.

DIMITRY HALVORSEN Staff Attorney

CHICAGO

Office: 312 840-7469

Email: dhalvorsen@jenner.com

PRACTICE GROUPS

Litigation

EDUCATION

Osgoode Hall Law School of York University, JD, 2004; Represented Osgoode Hall in the Goodman & Carr first-year moot court competition as well as the Niagara International Law and Corporate and Securities Law moot court competitions; Vice Chair – Osgoode Mooting Society; Judge – Lerner's Cup moot court competition

University of Regina, Regina, Canada, BA, Accounting, 2002; Dean's Honor List; Accounting Fellowship Award

ADMISSIONS

Illinois, 2011

New York, 2006