

STEPHEN L. ASCHER, Partner

Stephen L. Ascher is co-chair of the firm's Securities Litigation and Enforcement Practice and a Chambers-ranked trial lawyer. Hedge funds, real estate companies, and other institutions have sought his help with a wide variety of financial and commercial disputes. He regularly tries cases in federal court, state courts throughout the United States, and arbitration proceedings.

Mr. Ascher's practice spans the gamut of securities and financial services litigation, from traditional 10b-5 class actions to disputes arising out of M&A transactions to fraud and contract claims by institutional plaintiffs. He frequently represents plaintiffs as well as defendants, including investors and other market participants in structured finance disputes. He also handles significant commercial disputes for clients in a variety of industries.

Representative matters in these areas include the following:

Structured Finance and Derivatives Disputes

- Brookfield Asset Management in claims relating to interest rate swaps. Brookfield resolved the claims for a $500 million gain.
- A foreign institutional investor in claims against financial institutions arising to CDOs. Our client has recovered more than $200 million.
- Several world-class hedge funds in structured finance disputes.
- A US bank in several disputes with other financial institutions concerning CDOs. Our client recovered more than $100 million.
- Chesapeake Energy in a well-publicized trial against a trustee concerning the timeliness of a redemption of a $1.3 billion bond offering.

Other Plaintiff-side Disputes

- A bank defrauded by false valuations. Our client recovered most of its losses.
- A foreign trading company in suits against three Wall Street banks, which yielded settlements totaling several hundred million dollars.
- A major biotech company in a trade secrets claim against a Fortune 500 pharma company. Our client proved theft of its trade secrets.

Securities Class Actions

- Dismissal of 10b-5 claims against American Express arising out of the nonrenewal of its co-branding relationship with Costco.
- Dismissal of 10b-5 claims against Curaleaf.
- Four underwriters in the historic WorldCom class action.
